Mercury Suspension

By Artemide

Description

Experience a truly breathtaking and ethereal presence with the Mercury Suspension, a lighting masterpiece that transcends mere illumination to become a living, reflective sculpture. This extraordinary fixture features a robust die-cast aluminum body, from which cascade shimmering reflective units made of injection-molded thermoplastic material with a metallic finish. A central stainless steel reflector further enhances its mesmerizing effect. When illuminated, these elements create a stunning interplay of light and shadow, giving the illusion of liquid mercury floating beneath your ceiling. This innovative design provides both direct and indirect light, casting a soft glow upward while reflecting captivating patterns downward. Customers consistently describe it as mesmerizing, a true work of art, and a conversation starter. Ideal for grand entryways, modern living rooms, or dining areas, the Mercury Suspension embodies architectural, contemporary, and glamorous styles, transforming any space into a dramatic and sophisticated environment.
