DESCRIPTION

The Nest Cork Paper Bin is a take on the classic paper bin but was also intended to be in general use in the home as a magazine holder or for different kinds of everyday objects. The crumpled look is a result from the designer wanting the product to be flat-packed during shipping, and this practical design choice has resulted in one of the item's most characteristic features. Its double layer of ultra-fine cork fabric hand sewn together as well as steam bent wood handle define the object's overall quality and rich detailing.
