Cup Warming Desk Lamp

By Adesso Corp.

Description

Keep your drink warm while brightening your work space with the mid-century modern Cup Warming Desk Lamp with an integrated cup warmer built into the base to keep your coffee, tea, or other drink warm while you work. The lamp is constructed of black metal with stylish antique brass accents along the slender, two-piece arm and cone-shaped shade. For versatility, both the arm and base of the shade include articulation points, allowing you to adjust the top half of the arm and the shade angle to direct the light wherever it's needed. A rotary switch located on the shade easily turns the lamp on and off, while the lamp is powered by a 5 foot cord. Convenient, discreet buttons located on the base adjust the heating setting between high, low, and off, while the cup warmer also includes a one-hour safety timer. The desk lamp also provides convenient charging power for your phone, tablet, and other devices. Both a USB port and an AC outlet are located on the back of the base for charging multiple devices simultaneously.
