Rainforest Ceiling Light

By Currey and Company

Description

The Rainforest Ceiling Light with its down lights extending from the flowing tree-like structure is the perfect candidate for the biophilic design category, as it will, quite literally, bring nature indoors. The limbs, in a rustic bronze finish, are one with the bulbs that are placed so skillfully on them. The bronze semi-flush is one of many designs and finishes we offer in this family of lights. A skillful design move is how unobtrusive the canopy and the rods that attach the ceiling light to it are.
