Toio Floor Lamp By FLOS

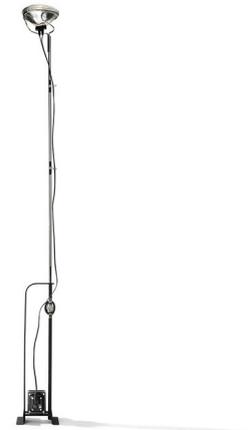

Description

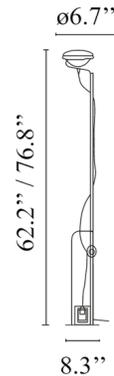

Ignite your imagination with the Flos Toio Floor Lamp, a whimsical yet eminently practical design by Achille and Pier Giacomo Castiglioni, whose name cleverly derives from inchtoy. This lamp masterfully incorporates equipment-style elements, transforming them into a sophisticated and functional luminaire. Its striking hexagonal nickel-plated brass stem is robustly held by an enamel steel base, embodying a sturdy industrial aesthetic. The genius of Toio lies in its functional details: fishing rod rings elegantly guide the power cord from the bulb at the top down to the transformer, a playful nod to its inventive spirit. The stem's height is fully adjustable, allowing you to tailor the light to your specific needs. The base cleverly incorporates a cleat, reminiscent of those found on boats, providing a neat solution for coiling any excess cord length. The included LED PAR 56 bulb at the top delivers indirect lighting, casting an impressive glow that evokes the powerful beam of a car headlight, bringing a touch of playful industrial charm and brilliant ambient light to any contemporary space.
