Discovery RGBW Vertical Pendant

By Artemide

Description

Prepare to be mesmerized by the Discovery RGBW Vertical Pendant from Artemide, a triumph of innovative design by Ernesto Gismondi. This pendant challenges perceptions, appearing as an almost invisible, ethereal element until its inner radiance is powerfully revealed. It truly creates a stunning visual effect where light magically appears from nowhere. Its secret lies within a slim metal ring that discreetly houses an advanced RGB plus 3000K white LED strip. This strip projects light into a specially engineered transparent technopolymer surface, embedded with imperceptible micro-particles. When off, the surface is barely discernible, but when activated, it magically fills with a perfectly diffused light, transforming absence into a vibrant, luminous presence. With Bluetooth connectivity and complete control via the intuitive Artemide mobile app, you have full mastery over dimming and an expansive spectrum of colors, allowing you to tailor the atmosphere to any mood or occasion. This minimalist elegance, combined with dynamic RGBW lighting, integrates flawlessly into Contemporary and Minimalist interiors, offering brilliant illumination with exceptional energy efficiency.
