Zevio Pendant

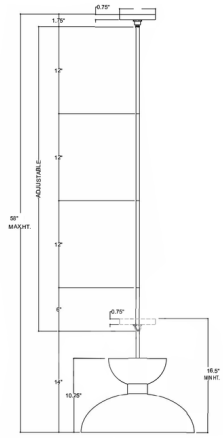

By Currey & Company

Description

When the lights are switched off, it can be hard to tell that the top and bottom cup-shaped shades of the Zevio Pendant are made of different materials. Ian Thornton designed the fixture with its frosted glass shade on the bottom and steel shade in a white finish on the top. The circlet that clinches these as they transition and the clean-lined stem from which the pendant hangs are contrasting elements made of brass-toned metal.
