Bulb Table Lamp

By Ingo Maurer

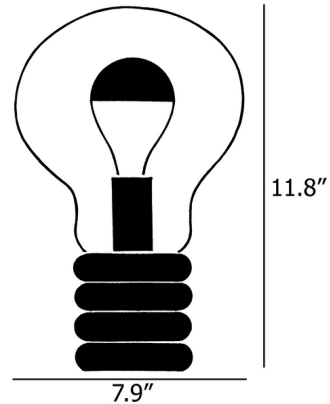

Description

The Bulb Table Lamp, originally designed by Ingo Maurer in 1966 and added to MoMA's permanent design collection in 1969, is an icon of mid-century modern design. The lamp is shaped like an oversized, classic incandescent bulb for a charmingly playful look. The base is handcrafted from untreated brass which will take on a unique patina over time, while the diffuser is made from mouthblown Murano crystal glass. A top-mirrored bulb is recommended for optimal aesthetics. On/off switch located on cord.
