Deco Corcovado Pendant

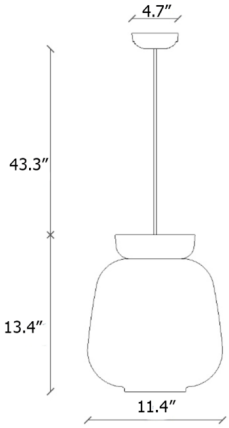

By Ferroluce

Description

The Corcovado Pendant is named after the Brazilian mountain that is home to Rio de Janeiro's famed Cristo Redentor statue. The mountain takes its name from the Portuguese word for hunchback due to its prominent granite peak, and the pendant's silhouette echoes this iconic shape. A variety of vibrant colorways inspired by the colors of Brazil's flag are available. A small opening in the bottom of the pendant directs light downward, making it perfectly suited above a kitchen counter or dining table.
