Green Aventurine Box

By Currey and Company

Description

The Green Aventurine Box is a luminous decorative box made of stone. The solid translucent quartz panels that are glued together to create the accessory with an abundance of sheen has the natural material to thank for its iridescence. Because this is an elemental piece, there will be significant variations from box to box, some with a greater number of lighter green tones and others with fewer. The inside of the box has been honed so it is smoother while the outside is matte.
