Mingle Sofa

By Audo Copenhagen

Description

The Mingle Sofa was designed by Danish architect Flemming Lassen in 1935 and presented at the Copenhagen Cabinetmakers' Guild Competition the same year. Inspired by French elegance and Italian modernism that Lassen witnessed during his travels through Europe, the Mingle Sofa was created with conversation in mind. Curving armrests encircle the sitters to create a comfortable and intimate atmosphere. Rounded solid oak legs complete the look, and petite proportions allow Mingle to fit easily in a variety of interiors. The Hallingdal 65 573 and Vidar 323 fabrics are not available with natural oak finish.
