Skynest Motion Pendant

By FLOS

Description

Experience the harmonious blend of dynamic design and sustainable innovation with the Flos Skynest Motion Pendant. This captivating fixture showcases an airy dome crafted from an intricate network of lit and unlit curved rods, each elegantly wrapped in thin woven fabric mesh. Every luminous rod is ingeniously powered by micro-connectors at the top, and encased in a sophisticated two-toned mesh, featuring a colored outer side and a white inner side for optimal light emission from its integrated LED module. A built-in balancing system at the top of the dome ensures impeccable fixture stability, while an aluminum ring at the rim provides essential structural integrity. What makes the Skynest Motion truly unique is its visually striking design, resembling a floor lamp that is instead gracefully suspended from the ceiling by a discreet cable. Its plug-in power cord runs from the dome, extends up and over a long horizontal arm, and is anchored on the floor by a small, subtle base. This innovative setup allows for adjustable hanging height, controlled by both the ceiling cable length during installation and by easily pulling more or less cord through the floor base. Committed to the environment, the dome's fabric mesh is made from recycled and recyclable polyester, and the entire pendant is assembled without any glue, ensuring it can be fully separated for future recycling. The Skynest Motion Pendant is a beautiful and thoughtful choice for those seeking a sustainable, innovative lighting solution with a truly unique presence.
