No. 7 Dining Chair

By Sibast Furniture

Description

Originally designed in 1953 by Helge Sibast, the No. 7 Dining Chair features a unique character and bold design that have made it an icon of Danish Modern design. With a background in cabinetmaking and an interest in challenging traditional methods of woodworking, Sibast incorporated an arching molded veneer backrest into the design to provide outstanding comfort and define the chair's distinctive look. The seat is supported by a solid wood frame with gently tapered back legs, giving the chair an elegant expression that will complement modern and retro interiors alike. The No. 7 Dining Chair is available in a variety of upholstery options. Dunes Leather is an aniline leather with a matte surface that shows natural markings, and it will patina to a smoother and shinier finish with use and time. Victory Leather is a protected leather with a more uniform surface grain and few visible natural markings. Spectrum is a semi-aniline leather with a light finish that resembles fully aniline leather while providing a greater degree of protection from stains and fading.
