Nought Vase Set of 2

By Currey and Company

Description

Created with time-honored techniques that have been thriving in cultures around the world for centuries, the Nought Vase Set of 2 vessels are made of terracotta. The lost wax process used to create them ensures the jugs exhibit an artisanal attribute: where the vases are terracotta-colored, the wax prevented their surfaces from taking the black glazing. This is a painterly technique that results in appealing surfaces that have been perfected over ages.
