Symphony Wall Light

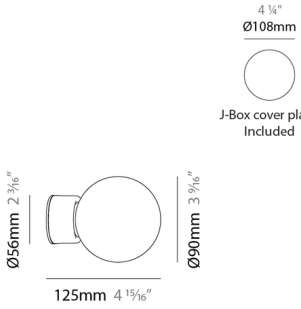

By ZANEEN design

Description

Symphony is a collection of suspension and surface lighting solutions that can transport you into a recital with its diffusion of light, now also available as a modular system for added flexibility. The glass lampshade features a magnetization system that creates a magnetic field, allowing the sphere to rotate around the ball joint on the axis. A very flexible and functional luminaire, Symphony allows you to rotate the shade to direct the light as necessary to either dilute it or envelop the atmosphere. The minimalistic and unique design of this collection gives it great mobility, easily adapting to the needs of a space at any given moment and therefore creating a connection between the light and the user. Note: Junction box cover plate included
