Urchin Plant Pot By 101 Copenhagen

Description

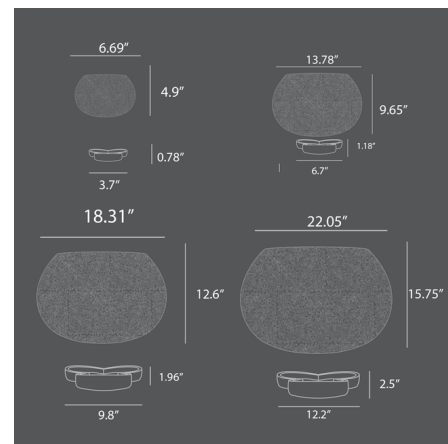

A symphony of texture, the Urchin Plant Pot is a beehive inspired surface that hums with organic beauty to explore nature's artistry through your fingertips. Formed from delicate casts of shellfish gathered along windswept shores, this texture holds the memory of the tide, the whisper of the ocean, and the intricate language of the earth itself. Each ridge and curve pay tribute to the quiet wonder of nature's design a timeless vessel shaped by land, sea, and imagination. This series comes in four thoughtfully crafted sizes, each designed to embrace the beauty of nature in all its forms. These plant pots are thoughtfully designed with a small drainage hole at the base and a matching saucer, ensuring optimal water flow and air circulation for plants.
