Kumo Cabinet

By Eichholtz

Description

The Kumo Cabinet is designed in collaboration with the Metropolitan Museum of Art. Inspired by a makie lacquered box from Japan's Edo period, the cabinet features a waving fan motif for a subtle sense of movement across its surface. Its charcoal brown oak veneer finish provides a rich, earthy touch. Simple interior storage shelves offer ample space to meet a variety of needs. The Kumo is an refined storage piece that blends Japanese aesthetics with a modern design sensibility.
