Asteria Chandelier

By Foscarini

Description

The Asteria Chandelier minimizes the traditional elements of a chandelier for a refined, modern look that is both functional and decorative. The curving arms in painted aluminum each hold an LED strip that directs light upward for an ambient glow. An LED spotlight in the center of the chandelier provides downlighting perfect for highlighting a specific area such as a dining room table. The downlight and uplights can be dimmed independently of each other to tailor the lighting precisely to the needs of the moment and the space.
