Kandinsky Pendant

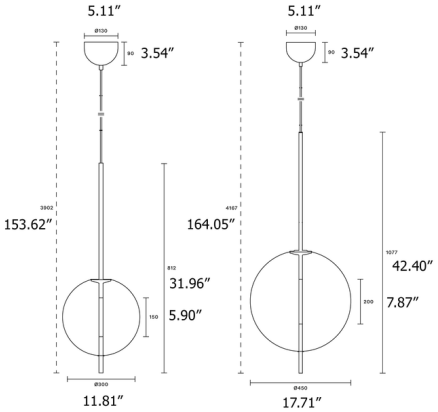

By Pholc

Description

The Kandinsky Pendant draws inspiration from abstract circle paintings of its namesake artist, created during his time at the Bauhaus school in the 1920s. A sphere and a spear form the two elements of the composition, piercing each other in mid-air. Their delicate balance evokes a dramatic sensation of weightlessness and precision. Perfect as a solo piece above a table, or or arranged in a dramatic cluster.

Shown in brass / smoked brown
