Frisbi Pendant By FLOS

Description

Unleash a playful yet sophisticated light with the Flos Frisbi Pendant, a brilliant 1978 design by Achille Castiglioni. This ingenious fixture appears to defy gravity, with its opal white acrylic diffuser suspended by three barely-there fine steel cables. It's a masterclass in illusion and function, providing three types of illumination: diffused, direct, and reflected light. A sleek black metal stem and wire mesh basket assembly neatly secure the reflector to the power cord, ensuring clean lines and effortless style. Perfect for: Dining tables, creative workspaces, or any area where you desire adaptable and artful illumination with a touch of modern whimsy. Achille Castiglioni Masterpiece: A timeless design from a legendary innovator, challenging perceptions of everyday objects. Versatile Illumination: Offers diffused, direct, and reflected light to suit various moods and tasks. Floating Aesthetic: The minimal suspension cables create an enchanting, weightless appearance. Made in Italy: A testament to superior craftsmanship and design heritage.
