Castore Pendant

By Artemide

Description

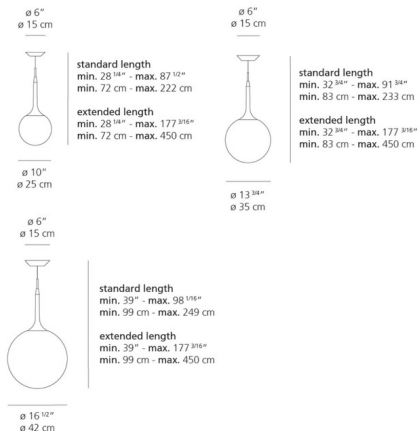

Illuminate your space with the Castore Pendant, a true testament to modern elegance and masterful craftsmanship. This captivating fixture features a pristine white, hand-blown Venetian glass diffuser with an external etched finish, creating a soft, inviting glow that transforms any room. The ingenious design includes a steel tubing diffuser support, gracefully covered by a tapered white translucent molded polycarbonate sleeve, allowing for a partial, diffused emanation of light that adds depth and warmth. Suspended by a sleek stainless steel cable, the Castore Pendant provides a clean, minimalist aesthetic. The ceiling plate, crafted from steel with a white molded thermoplastic canopy, ensures a seamless integration into any interior. Designed to mount effortlessly to a standard electrical junction box, this pendant offers both standard and extended length cable options to perfectly suit your ceiling height and design vision. Customers consistently praise the Castore for its beautiful diffused light and understated sophistication, making it a cornerstone for contemporary design schemes. Enhance your living room, dining area, or entryway with the timeless appeal of the Castore Pendant, an investment in both style and superior illumination.
