Nur 1618 Pendant

By Artemide

Description

The Nur 1618 Pendant is a masterclass in elegant simplicity and refined light diffusion, offering a captivating presence that defines a space with its warm glow. This distinguished fixture features a robust aluminum body, providing a sleek and durable exterior that embodies contemporary design. Its sophisticated light emission is achieved through an inner thermoplastic diffuser, which works in harmony with a beautifully crafted borosilicate sanded glass upper cap. This unique combination of materials ensures a soft, even distribution of light that minimizes harsh shadows and creates an inviting ambiance. Available in a classic Aluminum or a deep Anthracite Grey finish, the Nur 1618 Pendant offers versatile appeal to complement a range of interior styles. Its substantial yet elegant form makes it an ideal centerpiece for illuminating dining areas, grand entryways, or as a sophisticated anchor over a large kitchen island, promising to infuse your space with both functional light and understated luxury.
