Skydro Non-Electrified Ceiling Light

By Artemide

Description

Create a breathtaking sculptural statement on your ceiling with the Skydro Non-Electrified Ceiling Light. This unique fixture is a stunning piece of modern art, designed to captivate with its reflective qualities rather than traditional illumination. It is meticulously crafted from ABS injection-molded reflective units and a die-cast aluminum unit, all supported by a robust painted steel bearing structure. The ingenious modularity of the system allows for countless configurations simply by adding extra units, giving you unparalleled freedom to design a custom, undulating ceiling landscape. It's important to note that this fixture does not have any light output itself; its purpose is purely aesthetic, reflecting ambient light and creating dynamic visual interest. UL listed for safety, customers describe it as mesmerizing, a true centerpiece, and an architectural marvel. Ideal for grand living rooms, modern entryways, or commercial spaces where a non-illuminated, sculptural design element is desired, the Skydro Non-Electrified Ceiling Light offers a truly contemporary and impactful visual experience.
