Talo Linear Suspension

By Artemide

Description

Introducing the Talo Linear Suspension, a testament to modern minimalism and advanced lighting technology. With its remarkably elongated form and sophisticated material composition, this fixture is an ideal choice for bringing refined illumination to contemporary spaces. The Talo boasts a robust body crafted from extruded aluminum, ensuring both durability and a sleek, uninterrupted profile. It's gracefully complemented by a thermoplastic resin canopy that provides a seamless installation. The pendant's linear design is a perfect fit for illuminating extended surfaces, making it an excellent choice over a long dining table, a spacious kitchen counter, or a stylish bar. Its lower diffuser, made from high-quality opal polycarbonate, ensures a soft, even light distribution. What truly sets the Talo apart is its innovative direct/indirect light distribution, which means it casts light both downwards to illuminate your surfaces and upwards to create ambient ceiling wash, reducing harsh shadows and enhancing overall room brightness. This fixture is frequently praised for its effective task lighting and modern aesthetic, creating an inviting and highly functional environment.
