Yang Floor Lamp

By Artemide

Description

Since the 1990s, Artemide has been working with colored light and color temperatures to study their significant psychological and physiological impact. The present evolution of that research is Yang, which provides a broader range of colors that can become more and more vivid. Yang can reproduce all of the colors in the visible spectrum and allow humans to perceive all the wavelengths generated by natural sunlight for optimal vision. Specific wavelengths can be selected thanks to an innovative system that ensures accurate and punctual management, giving the user complete freedom and flexibility to interact with the fixture in real time. On/Off switch on cord.
