Yang Floor Lamp

By Artemide

Description

The Yang Floor Lamp by Artemide represents the cutting edge of lighting research, delving deeply into the profound psychological and physiological impact of colored light and diverse color temperatures. Building upon decades of pioneering work in this field since the 1990s, Yang offers an advanced evolution, providing an expansive and increasingly vivid spectrum of colors that can transform any environment. This innovative fixture is engineered to reproduce all colors in the visible spectrum, allowing for a complete human perception of the wavelengths generated by natural sunlight, thereby optimizing vision and well-being. An ingenious system ensures accurate and precise management of specific wavelengths, granting the user complete freedom and real-time flexibility to interact with and tailor the fixture's output. Whether you seek to invigorate, soothe, or inspire, Yang provides the ultimate tool for dynamic light control. A simple on/off switch on the cord ensures effortless operation for this groundbreaking piece, inviting you to experience light in a truly immersive and personalized way.
