Molly Ceiling Fan By Matthews Fan Company

Description

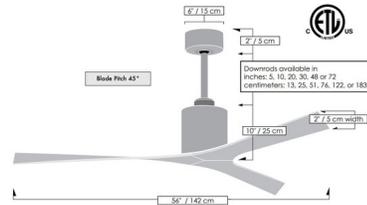

The Atlas Fan/Molly Ceiling Fan was created by Chicago architect Stephen Katz with a design theme that combines modern organic geometry with outstanding performance and function. Developed with the help of advanced computer software allowing the design to achieve complex forms while maintaining a clean, natural, and contemporary look. The blades come with a 45 degree pitch and is complemented by a powerful DC motor providing optimal amounts of airflow. Available with a Matte Black or Gloss White finish with matching blades. Includes a 10 inch downrod and a vaulted ceiling canopy for installing the fan on sloped ceilings with a maximum pitch of 30 degrees. Includes a Black 6-speed RF remote control with reverse function as well as a White wireless Decora-style, 6-speed, wall control. ETL listed, damp locations. Not compatible with Costal, Saltwater, or Chlorine environments.
