Moragas Table Lamp By Santa & Cole

Description

At the age of forty-four, Antoni de Moragas Gallissa designed the Moragas Table Lamp for his own office. Moragas had this lamp on his desk and would often use it to place notes and business cards he received, inserting them between the ribbon folds. A sturdy wood cylinder supports a head with three bulbs arranged radially and outwards, surrounded by a generous circular shade made from cotton ribbon (typically used for bookbinding) and has a thread running along the edge, forming an asymmetry that creates a splendid contrast of light and shadow.

Shown in natural oak / white ribbon
